Estate agent to donate to Doncare after each property deal

Community | Anna Prytz

CLIENTS of Barry Plant Manningham are being encouraged to keep the needy in mind when buying or renting a property.

The real estate agent has committed to donating $250 or $125 for each buyer or tenant who mentions Doncare on settlement or lease signing.

As part of a new partnership, it will also help advertise the welfare agency's events and arrange donation of unwanted furniture from sold properties.

Barry Plant client relations manager Felicity Solomou said the commitment would be ongoing and evolving.

"We have been very supported by the local community and wanted to find a way to give something back," Ms Solomou said. "We're happy to see the practical ways that we can contribute grow."

Doreen Stoves said she was thrilled a business was taking an active interest. "We encourage connections like this as much as possible because it needs to be everyone working together," she said.

Ms Solomou hoped other firms would follow Barry Plant's example. "There are some extremely underprivileged people in this area," she said.
